A note from the Head...

A very LARGE CONGRATULATIONS to Year 6 who finished their SATs tests last week and even though there were a couple of tricky papers, they took it all in their stride and tried their very best. We are all so proud of them.

They were presented with their leavers hoodies in assembly and excitedly bounded off to Lledr Hall for the weekend. This year has flown and it's scary to think that they only have 7 weeks left of their primary school experience. They have so much to look forward to including the end of year show.

Attendance

During assembly last week, the next class to achieve 100% attendance were promised ice creams. Year 6 achieved 100% attendance this week – super effort during a very tough week – ice creams all around.

Pentecost Party

On Monday morning, we will be celebrating Pentecost with a Pentecost party. Each class will complete four activities, with different teachers throughout school and reflect on the arrival of the Holy Spirit. The children are invited to wear fiery coloured clothes and contribute £1 to our activities during our themed week this week.

Cake sale

Thank you for your donations. These events cannot go ahead without these. We have raised £75 for our chosen charity this term, Cornerstone.

Safety

Last week, there was an incident in school when some of the children playing alongside the fence on the field were approached by a group of teenagers who spoke with them. The children weren't harmed, but they took one of our children's hats and also offered them a vape. Our children refused and reported the incident with staff. This will be addressed with all children through assemblies and discussions during PSHE lessons, but please also talk to your children at home about keeping talking to strangers and the dangers of vapes. The local high schools have been contacted and a description of the teenagers shared.

The saints of the week continue to follow in St Joseph the Workers footsteps and show perseverance in their school work. Well done.

There were a couple of homework projects that stole the show in assembly. Well done to all of our stars this week.

Saints of the Week

On Wednesday, our school football team played a match against Clifton Primary School at home. They outplayed the other team and defeated them 16 -1, what a result. Well done boys.
