

Dear Parents/carers,

The word 'Jolabokafloð' is an Icelandic word that translates as 'Christmas Book Flood'. In Iceland, on Christmas Eve people traditionally exchange books and spend the evening reading and eating chocolate.

On Thursday 21st November, we would like to host our third Jolabokafloð! The children will exchange books, read with their friends and have a sweet treat together. Please send a book into school wrapped up in wrapping paper and labelled with your child's year group on this date. Please choose something suitable for your own child's age.

We are all looking forward to reading and celebrating together and having another 'book flood' in school.

Thank you for your continued support.
Kind regards,
Mrs Brown
